DocPrep sendPackageTRID API Overview

Welcome to the Document Preparation API Reference collection. Here you will find official documentation for the sendPackageTRID Web service including getting started information, feature and usage descriptions, and detailed API reference information.

Service Overview

This section describes the sendPackageTRID API supported by the Document Preparation platform. The sendPackageTRID method is part of the DCX web service that allows users to submit TILSA-RESPA Integrated Disclosure packages to SDX for expiry date and time calculation.

The package type identifier will calculate “paper out” date/time, which corresponds to the delivery requirement for the given package type. It also supports a “print this on date/time” model in which the lender can assert direct control over if and when a package “papers out.”

Click sendPackageTRID method to get started.

sendPackageTRID method

This method is used to send a secure mail package that is TILA-RESPA Integrated Disclosure compliant.

Operation

The sendPackageTRID method belongs to the DCX web service.
